WOOD IN DENIAL OF GOVERNOR'S CHARGE

Says Bilbo, if Serious, Should Give People Free School Books and Forget "Wild Excursion" of State Printing Plant—Shows that Mississippi Buys Printing at Saving.

JACKSON, MISS.—Dec. 8.—Walker Wood, Secretary of State, in discussing the extraordinary session of the legislature, just closed, and Governor Bilbo's attempt to shift the blame for some constructional accomplishments not being achieved, and what the Secretary of State characterizes as the governor's "uncalled for and unwarranted stab at him," which was published in the daily press of Monday and Tuesday, stated that "the governor's effusion showed the mind of a mad man. In his effort to justify the expense of the session, he called attention to a few appropriation bills that he vetoed, and among them was the following:

"'$10,000.00 to Walker Wood to be used in paying for State printing at exorbitant prices to his printer friends.'

"The appropriation referred to above was not asked for by Walker Wood, but by the State Board of Public Contracts, composed of the Attorney General, Auditor of Public Accounts, Commissioner of Agriculture and Commerce, Superintendent of Education and Secretary of State, with the approval of the late lamented Governor H. L. Whitfield, with whom the matter was discussed, and later was embodied in the budget of departmental requirements sent to the 1928 legislature by Governor Murphree, as shown by copies of said budget.

"The appropriation for printing has not been increased in a number of years, and Governor Bilbo signed an appropriation for $5,000.00, covering a deficit for 1927, and vetoed in the same bill items of $5,000.00 for printing fund for 1928 and $5,000.00 for 1929. Approximately, this deficit has been occurring for several years, and will occur in the future. The increase is a natural one, occasioned by a larger volume of increased business of the state.

"The fact is, the governor has not saved the taxpayers one cent by his veto, but used this item as camouflage to take a back-handed slap at Walker Wood and the printers of the state.

"It may be information to the governor to learn that the state printing is contracted for every two years by the State Board of Public Contracts, and all printing is done under contract, and no state printing is distributed promiscuously among Walker Wood's 'printing friends,' as he, the governor designedly tried to impress the public mind.

"It also may be enlightening to the governor to know that the Porte Publishing Company, of Salt Lake City, the leading authority on printing prices and cost systems, were recently submitted journals, laws, departmental reports and other major items of state printing, and after an examination of the work, quality of paper and prices paid by Mississippi under contract, says that the state is paying 40 per cent less than should be paid for its printing. This explodes the governor's statement that exorbitant prices are being paid for Mississippi printing, but this is not camouflage, but a real saving to the taxpayers.

"The governor seldom loses an opportunity to discredit the Mississippi printers, because they do not agree with him on his 'wild excursion' of creating a state printing plant. He is dreaming that with the taxpayers forced by his state printing plant law to provide him with a $600,000 state printing plant, his accomplishments would startle and revolutionize the printing industry in Mississippi, but as he has been handling individually a printing establishment for the past few years, the records do not show that personally he has been able to make his dream come true. He would destroy partly one of the state's largest taxpaying units, in order to experiment in prtining school books.

"The legislature wisely declined to try out such an experiment that would prove a business failure and a political football.

"Governor, if you really want to give the poor people of the state some assistance, as you claim, join me in an effort to have the legislature pass a law giving the school children FREE SCHOOL BOOKS, as a number of other states are doing."

BOARD CUTS SALARY OF PROSECUTING ATTORNEY

The board of supervisors, at its meeting last Saturday, voted to reduce the salary of the county prosecuting attorney from $900 annually to $600. Kemp Mattingly, district 1 supervisor, was absent from the meeting, and W. W. Whitaker, member from district 5, was recorded as "present and not voting." S. C. Mims, Jr., is the holder of the office affected by the reduction.

MISSES LUFKIN SING

Grenada Rotarians, at their luncheon Tuesday, December 11, enjoyed a splendid musical program presented by Misses Katherine and Chloe Lufkin, both of whom are musicians of ability. The former rendered two unusually pretty songs, being accompanied at the piano by her sister. As a concluding number, they sang a comic duet.

Erle Johnston followed with a several minutes' talk, during the course of which he took advantage of the opportunity to get off some fun at the expense of his fellow members.

Rector Accepts Call To Gulfport Church

Rev. R. W. Emerson, Rector of All Saints, Will Assume Charge of Gulfport Episcopal Church Latter Part of January—Community Regrets His Leaving.

Mention has already been made in these columns of the probability that Rev. R. W. Emerson, rector of All Saints' Episcopal church in Grenada, would move to Gulfport some time in January. Mr. Emerson has definitely decided to accept the call of the Gulfport church, which has a much larger membership than the Grenada church. Gulfport is quite a deal larger place than Grenada and naturally there is a wider opportunity there to garner souls for the Master.

Grenada, without regard to denominational lines, genuinely regrets that Mr. Emerson is to leave. He has shown a splendid spirit of cooperation with everything calculated for the spiritual betterment of the town. He has that demeanor and that bearing that draw men men to him and that give them to know very quickly that he has more than a sympathetic interest in their spiritual and moral welfare. He is so exceedingly gracious and discreet in his endeavors to reach the hearts of men and women that they find their hearts warming towards him before they realize it. He has been diligent in all the work of his own church. He believes in the Episcopal church, but is so happy in his loyalty to its tenets, that he soon begets one's interest and admiration. He is a lover of humanity. He has a big heart and a big soul and will sow deeds of kindness and love and show forth that spirit wherever he may be that makes men think of what they are doing and of their duty to square their lives with the teachings of the Master.

Mr. Emerson and his estimable family came to Grenada six years ago. His wife and his wife's mother have been splendid coworkers with him and have greatly endeared themselves to the community.

The Sentinel joins other friends in wishing for them in their new home that joy and satisfaction that God always gives those whose hearts and minds are stayed upon Him.

LICKFOLD HAS MESSAGE

Lickfold's Jewelry Store, for 38 years thoroughly established in the confidence of the buying public in this section, makes a bid for the Christmas trade in a message appearing in this issue of The Sentinel. Thirty-eight years, in one sense, is a long time. In another sense, it is a comparatively short period, as time is measured, but one who has enjoyed such a reputation as has F. R. Lickfold, the proprietor of Lickfold's Jewelry Store, is deserving of the fullest consideration on the part of gift buyers. Jewelry makes a most acceptable gift at any season of the year or for any occasion. The babe comes into the world; he receives gifts of jewelry. He is graduated from school and college and in each instance, gifts of jewelry are made him. He finds a sweetheart, woos her and wins her hand; he seals their engagement with jewelry. When they wed, their vows at the altar are again sealed with jewelry. And the cycle goes on. Therefore, one can never have the slightest doubt about gifts of jewelry being acceptable.

Lickfold's ad carries a message to the people of this section that should be read with interest.

GIRL SCOUT NEWS

The Girl Scouts of Troop 2 met Monday, December 10. Miss Faye Gunn supervised several marches. There were about forty girls present and each girl tried her best to keep step.

Martha Oliver's patrol, patrol 2, had charge of the program. It was on the subject "Etiquette". Betsy Neelly, Frances Rose, Lorine Kimzey, Kathryn Betz and Martha Oliver were on the program.

Following this, Miss Gunn gave a very interesting talk on "The Charm School". It was about "How a Girl May be Charming". Any question which the girls asked concerning "good manners", was answered by Miss Gunn.

The business was discussed and the meeting adjourned with "Taps". Scribe, G. K.

DUNCAN'S SALE CONTINUES THROUGH MONDAY, DEC. 24

Duncan & Co., in a page advertisement in this issue of The Sentinel, is announcing that its big close out sale will continue through December 24 and that further drastic reductions have been made in prices that had already been terribly slashed.

To think of a sale on dependable, seasonable merchandise that is always in demand continuing through the day before Christmas—at a time when buying is at its height—should bring joy to the thrifty bargain seeker and to those who appreciate real values when they see them.

Duncan & Co. has for years carried one of the best stocks of merchandise to be found anywhere. Too, it is one of the largest stocks in this section and the opportunity one has of selecting what he or she wishes from such an array of goods as Duncan & Co. offers should not be passed by.

Many people have delayed making their purchases of winter apparel on account of the mildness of the weather and now that the colder days will soon be here in earnest is the time to lay in a good supply for the winter.

Study Duncan's ad carefully. Space does not permit the listing of the hundreds and hundreds of bargains and if you don't find what you want quoted in the advertisement, it is safe to say you'll find it at Duncan's store.

PLAYER'S GUILD TO GIVE "THE PRINCE CHAP" DEC. 19

"The Prince Chap", by Edward Peple will be the next performance of the Player's Guild of Grenada College. It will be presented in the college auditorium on next Wednesday evening, Dec. 19th.

The play is a delightful comedy centering around an American sculptor in London. It contains a pleasing love plot, is full of humor and heart interest, and also has a seasonable flavor of Christmas about it. Miss Ruth G. Bale, who is known to Greenada audiences as director of the Player's Guild has charge of the production of The Prince Chap.

Three of the leading characters are town students in the department of expression, and the guild is "borrowing" little Miss Carolyn Provine of Grenada for the first act. Each member of the cast is well suited to her respective role. The cast is as follows: Misses Elisabeth Holder, Carolyn Provine, Lula Mae Provine, Corrie Mae Smith, Mary Charlotte Clark, Frances Baker, Loyce Norris, Rivers Elder, "Jack" Wright, Josephine Carr, La Verue Martin, Cedel Mounger.

Misses Mounger, Clark, Provine and Wright will be remembered from performances of last year, having won considerable applause in "Little Women" and "Dulcy".

The Player's Guild is presenting "The Prince Chap" at popular prices because it is their Christmas play and they wish all of their friends to see it. Admission will be 35c and 50c. The curtain will not rise until 8:15, so as not to conflict with prayer meetings at local churches.

THE LEADER LISTS GIFTS

The Leader, in an advertisement in this week's Sentinel, offers scores of suggestions to the Christmas shopper who is seeking gifts "for her" or "for him". Many items most acceptable to man and woman are to be found quoted in their advertisement at most reasonable and appealing prices and yet hundreds and hundreds of other things are to be found in this handsomely-appointed store that cannot be found listed in this week's paper.

Gifts of wearing apparel of any kind carry a personal appeal with their giving that can seldom be equalled. Look over the variety offered by The Leader and The Sentinel feels sure that your Christmas shopping will become a joy and a pleasure to you instead of something to be dreaded.

NO SERVICES SUNDAY

The Sentinel has been requested to announce that, due to the absence of the rector, Rev. R. W. Emerson, from the city, there will be no services at All Saints' Episcopal Church next Sunday.

Bethel

We passed near ancient Bethel. Near this spot Abraham pitched his tent when he first came to Canaan. Here Jacob saw his vision of the angels. Here Samuel judged Israel.

After passing the tiny village of Ramah, we stopped at Fireh to put water in the car. Here Christ was missed by his mother as they journeyed homeward from Jerusalem, when He was found in the Temple teaching.

Jerusalem

As we reached the top of Mt. Scopus we looked upon a beautiful sight as we saw Jerusalem for the first time. As we see it from this elevation, it is still a city compactly built together, a city of walls and gates and flanking towers, with something of the look of a great fortress of the feudal ages. With its domes and minarets rising conspicuously above the flat roofs and gray walls, outlining against a sunset colored sky, a picture of wondrous beauty. Although ruin has been heaped upon ruin, there is still a melancholy grandeur about the city,—honored above all others as the capital of the religious world.

Two ravines cut deeply on three sides into the rocks on which the city stands, separating it from the hills which surround it. Within this magnificent framework of encircling hills, the most wonderful events of human history have taken place. There are many mountains celebrated in song and story, but there is only one Mt. Zion. There is but one Olivet, one Gethsemane, and but one Calvary, go where we may. Here it was that while the heavens were darkened and the earth was reeling and men's hearts were failing them for fear,—the voice from the cross of shame proclaimed the culmination of Messianic hopes and the finished work of Redemption.

After looking upon the city from this point, until the sun had almost set, we continued our journey down this mountain, across the valley and climbing Mt. Zion we soon made our entrance into Jerusalem through the

COUNTY BUYS DEER

The Grenada county supervisors at their December meeting voted an appropriation of $125 with which the game warden, R. E. Hall, was authorized to purchase a pair of deer and turn them loose in the river bottoms above Grenada. The deer were received Sunday and Mr. Hall liberated them that day.

The warden is issuing a statement in this week's Sentinel telling the people of the county that it is now unlawful to hunt deer in any portion of the county except in beat 5. This is to protect the two deer purchased and to protect others that may be bought in the future.

Mr. Hall is zealous in discharging the duties of his office and he is anxious that he receive the co-operation of the citizens generally in seeing that the game laws are observed. He hopes to see before many years have passed an abundance of game in the county and if Mr. Hall receives that co-operation he seeks and desires The Sentinel feels sure that his hopes will be realized.

GENE COUNTISS IMPROVED AFTER AUTO ACCIDENT

It is gratifying to be able to report that Eugene Countiss is greatly improved and it is hoped that he will be able to come home Monday. It will be recalled that The Sentinel stated last week that he was in a car wreck in New Orleans, as a result of which he sustained a fractured skull. His father spent nerly a week at his bedside and Mrs. Countiss is still there. Dr. and Mrs. Countiss had their family physician, Dr. J. S. Sharp, to visit Eugene, and were greatly encouraged by his doing so, although Dr. Sharp was not in the city two hours.

TAKING ENUMERATION OF EDUCABLE CHILDREN

The enumeration of educable children in the city of Grenada is now being taken. If any home having a child or children between ages of 5 and 21 has been overlooked kindly call high school over phone 207.

Educable children are all those from five (or five in 1929) to twenty-one, married or single, in school or not at home or away from home.

REVELL SUGGESTS GIFTS FOR CHRISTMAS SEASON

In a well illustrated advertisement in this issue of The Sentinel, Revell Furniture Co. is giving numerous suggestions to everybody who is planning to make someone else happy this Christmas by remembering him or her with a gift. Gift giving at Christmas time dates back 2000 years when the wise men brought gifts to the Christ child, born in the manger. It is a happy sentiment that prompts the giving of some token to loved ones and friends and it is well, too, to make your gift one of lasting and enduring worth. When your gift is of furniture, you are presenting something that will be a daily reminder in the days and months to come of your thoughtfulness.

In this truly representative furniture store may be found a veritable multitude of articles most suitable for Christmas giving. Gifts of enduring quality and that will add charm and distinction to the home are there. Read Revell's ad, list what you want and whom you wish to remember and you'll find something appropriate at this store. The Sentinel does not have sufficient space, even if Revell wished it, to describe everything in the store, but the Christmas shopper may safely count on securing his wants there.

HEATH BROS. SUGGEST THINGS FOR YULETIDE

Heath Bros., in their advertisements in this issue of The Sentinel are making suggestions to the shopper who is seeking gifts for this one or that one and the suggestions are such that they should appeal to all who are thoughtful enough to want to give something that really will be appreciated. Besides the many attractive items mentioned and quoted by this progressive firm in its Christmas message to the buying public, there are other articles in the greatest variety to be found in the two departments of the store, so that one should experience no difficulty whatever in finding a remembrance for any individual at this Christmas time.

RADIOLA WILL FURNISH MUSIC FOR THE HOLIDAYS

The world's greatest artists will become your guests during the holidays and at the same time they will be sure to entertain you. The Radiola will bring the world to your fireside and it would be advisable for you to read this advertisement and then consult Sharp Furniture Co. for details more in full.

SCHOOL CLOSES DECEMBER 20

Next Thursday afternoon, December 20, the Grenada city schools will close for the holidays. The session will resume on Monday morning, December 31, according to an announcement by Prof. John Rundle, superintendent.

This gives the teachers ample time to get to their homes several days before Christmas and to spend a full week with their loved ones. The pupils, of course, do not feel that they can have any too much vacation and they will be sure to enjoy their respite from the routine of school work.

DYRE-KENT DRUG CO. GIVES SPLENDID ADVICE

Dyre-Kent Drug Co., "the Rexall Store", in a double-column ad in this paper, gives readers of The Sentinel some very pertinent advice relative to Christmas buying. This hustling drug firm reminds the people of this vicinity that it is familiar with the wants of many of its year-round customers and that it will be glad to pass this information on to those who are trying to find gifts that will please some particular person.

Gulfport, Miss., Dec. 10.—The Mississippi cotton crop this year is estimated at 1,470,000 bales of 500 pounds gross weight, according to the December report of the U. S. Department of Agriculture, D. A. McCandliss, Agricultural Statistician in this state. GLEN THOMAS PARDONED

Glen Thomas, one of the seven Thomas brothers sentenced within the past twelve months in the courts in Tallahatchie and Grenada counties to serve penitentiary sentences, was pardoned last week by Governor Bilbo. Thomas was sentenced to two years and had served about half of his time.

It is understood that his pardon was issued for meritorious conduct while in prison and because he had aided materially in the capture of one or more escaped convicts. He also was instrumental in giving evidence before the grand jury at the January term of court in Grenada county that resulted in several indictments being found.

Grenada Is Bedecked In Holiday Attire

Town Wears Air Becoming to Spirit of the Yuletide. Grenada Business Houses Wonderfully Stocked with Christmas Merchandise and Visitors Welcomed.

Christmas is right here. If you doubt it, look at Grenada stores and the banks and other buildings in Grenada. They are decorated with those beauties, lights and other things that tell the story of Bethlehem and of that Baby that has put a new song and a new spirit into the hearts of all men and women who have come under his influence.

With the decorations are those things for Santa Claus which he gets for the children and the grown ups and with which he makes people feel that real warmth and joy of Christian sunshine.

The stores of Grenada are well stocked with Christmas goods. Santa Claus really has no need to go elsewhere to find all that is needed for local surroundings and needs. The merchants are wearing more than their usual smiles. Grenada merchants and business men always display that friendly interest that good men should, but just somehow, the world has grown to expect something more than the usual when whispers of Santa Claus begin to be heard. All and even more is seen and found in that courtesy and handshake of Grenada's business factors, who bear in times of stress the burdens that always come to society. So let those who are wondering, "what shall I get for wife, daughter, sons and sisters and others?" not overlook the fact that out of all the stores in Grenada, surely they can find everything that Santa Claus would carry down the chimneys and in his sleds as he leaps from place to place and actually out-travels the fastest airships.

This is a mighty good time to "Trade at Home". There is something in the Book that says that "He that provideth not for his own household is worse than an infidel", and The Sentinel has wondered sometime if this condemnation includes those who must go elsewhere to buy that which they can find at home. Anyway, it is worth while to think seriously before going out of town "to buy" and to ask yourself the question, "Suppose everybody in Grenada would go elsewhere to buy, where would I be and what would my property be worth?" There is perhaps no more, maybe not as much, of the "go out of town to buy" at Grenada as in other towns, but there is too much and Christmas, 1928, is a mighty good time to stop at least a great deal of what is being done along this line.

This is not written at the suggestion of any merchant or any business factor in Grenada. It is written because this paper has a broad interest in every store, bank and business factor here.

Again The Sentinel would say: Come in late in the afternoon sometime the coming week and look at some of the beautiful lights as they glow in windows and tell the story of joy, peace and happiness. There is something about Christmas decorations that mean more than at almost any other time. They tell a beautiful story.

Grenada welcomes the visitor. Grenada welcomes shoppers. Her invitation is: Come and see for yourself.

BOARD GIVEN PRAISE FOR CUTS IN SALARY

Editor Sentinel:

May I, through the columns of your paper, express a few thoughts relative to the supervisors, farm agents and farmers? It seems to me the board at its December meeting acted wisely and fairly to all concerned. Those members voting to reduce the agents' salaries should be commended. It is not a question of what the agents are worth, but can the county afford to continue paying the salaries the agents have been receiving? The financial condition of the state shows there must be a cut in public expenses. It's true the reduction amounts to very little to the individual tax-payer but it saves the county $2,400.00 a year and the salaries of $183.33 monthly as fixed for each of the agents is about as much or more than the average man or woman makes.

In order to have general prosperity the county must prosper as well as the individual. It stands to reason the members of the Board of Supervisors are better able to know than the average person, whether the farm agents are an asset or a liability to the taxpayers. Lot of water has run under the bridge during the time Grenada county has been having farm agents. During this time, do you see better land, do you see better crops, do you see more people living on the farms? I think not. I am not blaming the agents for those conditions. Agents have done well their part, but it just is not in the power or work of the agents to make the farmer prosperous. The farmer must work out his own prosperity. My observation has been that the successful small farmer is one that works less land and better land. He has a good brood work mare, raises a mule colt every year or so, plows deep breaking land, pulverizes his ground well before planting, fertilize poor land growing a crop, has two or three good milch cows, a good brood sow, a few good laying hens, raises more than a plenty for himself and stock to eat, and then all the cotton he can. Every land owner or renter should in my opinion do this. The money this county has paid to farm agents in the last twenty years would have been better for the farmer and county had it been put into agricultural and live stock premiums. Fertilizer, the greatest benefit received from the agent's work, could be handled just as cheaply through some local firm. If the farmer feels he needs advice as to how to farm or treat fruit trees he can get such information from the same place as the agent gets his—a government bureau or A. & M. College which costs nothing but asking Mr. Busby or the college for bulletin, giving such advice as he might want.

I have been under the impression that a part of the agent's duties were to teach diversified crops. Yet more cotton was raised this year and less cattle than last. Does the farmer need the agent to tell him how to raise cotton?

I have nothing against the agents. They have always been good and kind to me. They have my best wishes and good will. However, I think good roads and a new court house are more essential than the agents. Dear reader, too many people are living off of the government.

Respectfully,
WM. P. FERGUSON.
Grenada, Miss., Dec. 10, 1928.

GRATEFUL TO BE UP AGAIN.

For many days during the month of November, I was a very sick man. I am more than grateful to have so nearly recovered. I had the attention of a good doctor, of good nurses and of a loving and devoted wife and nine dear children and the kindly and sympathetic interterest of many good friends. Added to all this were the prayers of my family and many noble Christians in almost all stations of life—but for these intercessions, what was done for me would not have been so abundantly blessed. If I consulted my own feelings, I would mention many names, but I shall refrain from this. Grenada has a noble and worthy citizenship and those in sorrow or distress may always count on Grenada people doing those beautiful and sublime things that have their inspiration in the very fountains of that City where all is ever Eden-like and sublime, and where pure love reigns supreme. Gratefully and Sincerely, O. F. Lawrence.

THE LEGISLATURE AND THE GOVERNOR.

The Sentinel has no disposition to jump into the fracas between Gov. Bilbo, Speaker Tom Bailey and Walker Wood and others in the legislature, made acute by the Governor's call to war upon the adjournment of the extraordinary session of the legislature when he charged Tom Bailey with undermining his legislative plans and, as the Governor claimed, blocking the progress of the state.

The Governor threw away a golden opportunity after his inauguration. When he was nominated the best thought of the state felt ready to cooperate with him, when possible.

The Governor avers that by his nomination, the people of the state said they favored certain public measures which he advocated. He was never further wrong. The truth is it was the supporters of Mike Conner and Albert Anderson that gave him the nomination. These were as far from favoring the Governor's socalled book plant as Korea is from Kalamazoo. Few indeed took the book plant seriously in the campaign.

But this aside: It must be remembered that the people of the state elected an upper and a lower house of the legislature. These men are supposed to have had some individual views on public questions and they are supposed to directly represent the views of their constituency, particularly is this true of the lower house which body has proved to be an impassable barrier to the "big things" which the Governor has strived, cajoled, maneuvered and scolded to get through the legislative mill.

It is true that a majority of the senate, the upper house, showed that it was ready to favor any measure that the Governor sponsored, but after the breach arose between the Governor and the lower house, it would have been better for the Governor and the state had the upper house balked at some of the Governor's plans.

The Governor threw the first brick that knocked his playhouse down when he made an attack on Tom Bailey before the legislature was organized, and then undertook to defeat him. Tom Bailey supported Mike Conner in the race for Governor. We would not take him to be a man that would carry any political prejudice to where the Governor says he has carried it. Anyway, when the Governor announced that Tom Bailey must be beaten for Speaker, that aroused Bailey's friends and made them rally to him as they would undoubtedly not have done had the Governor not sought by all means at his command to defeat him for Speaker.

It may be observed that if law-makers are just to register the will of the President or the Governors, there would be no need of law-making bodies, and that both the United States and the 48 states are wasting millions of dollars paying congressmen, senators and legislators.

The Governor asked to have too many things done when he was inaugurated. We believe that it has been correctly stated that all the bureaus, commissions and appropriations he asked for, together with his proposed book plant and highways, totaled $108,000,000.

Another thing: Everything that the Governor wanted organized or changed carried the proposition that he was to do the appointing. Regardless of his purpose in this he should not have overlooked that the tendency of the day is for the people to name their officers.

We elect our governors and other state officials, our supreme judges and United States Senators, and the people properly reason, "Why not commissioners and heads of bureaus?" Whether the Governor intended it so or not, his actions were convincing that he wanted to control all boards of trustees and commissions.

Had the Governor, at the regular session or in the early days of the extraordinary session, come forward with a highway bill which provided that the highway commissioners be chosen by popular vote, it is our opinion that a constructive highway bill would have been enacted, and that during next year, much would have been learned that would have enabled the law-making body to amend the law in 1930 so as to have an ideal highway statute. What was supposed to have been the Governor's road law was struggled over at the regular and the recent session, and it appears that when the Governor found that this bill was as dead as Hector, he came forward at the last moment with what was denominated the executive's own child in the way of a road measure.

The Governor never proposed, so far as our knowledge goes, any connected revenue measure. He would say that the legislature "should" and "must" but the law-making body was left in the dark as to what sort of a general revenue law he favored. Yet he stood like Leonidas at Thermopylae and put the executive veto on revenue raising measure. His actions in this regard were puzzling, and were naturally construed by many as showing that the Governor expected to take credit for anything popular in revenue raising and that he purposed to place all the blame on the legislature, and particularly the lower house, for any objectionable measures passed.

The legislature found itself embarrassed. It found that at the regular session it had dug a hole in making appropriations from which it was more than difficult to extricate itself. The legislators had voted money like Mississippians were multiplied millionaires. It is the poorest state per capita in the Union. The legislators were swept off their feet by the same things that have beguiled many of their predecessors; they felt that "Mississippi can afford to take no backward step; we must keep the step of progress and see to it that all the state's institutions are cared for" as other states care for theirs, forgetting that Mississippi is not able to pay so much for "taxing progress" as many of her sister states. But the Governor's name appears on all the appropriation bills. We have gotten a sort of, maybe, "mean" satisfaction out of the legislature's predicament in struggling to find something to still further tax to take care of the big appropriations made. The Sentinel told them so, and "they were big enough and old enough, and ought to have known better". But let it be remembered that the Governor is a spender and that he is an advocate of more than liberal spending of public money.

The Governor made a mistake in his Yazoo City speech. There are many who have the idea that the Governor undertook to bulldoze the lower house. That body contains some of the ablest men in the state. They have settled convictions and can give just as good and convincing reasons for the faith that is in them as the Governor or anybody else.

We believe that the unbiased judge will place a larger part of the responsibility for the legislative deadlock upon the Governor than upon the lower house, upon Tom Bailey, Walter Sillers, Joe George, Lawrence Kennedy, or any member or members.

Now we do not mean to be critical with the Governor. We fear that he has chosen his "kitchen cabinet" unwisely, and that they have failed to advise him properly, and that he has been unfortunate in some of his close advisers, or else they have been worse than unkind to him.

As a rule too many people fawn on a Governor. If he be their political friend, they tell him too frequently what they think he wants to hear rather than what they know he ought to be told and ought to know. The greater part of Gov. Bilbo's administration is ahead of him. Every citizen of the state is more or less interested in what the Governor does and his attitude toward public questions. Governor Bilbo must pursue different tactics or else we fear that there will not be a law enacted providing for the building of concrete highways throughout the state before he retires from office. The public mind is ripe for the right sort of a highway bill and it seems to us that the Governor should recognize where the hitch is and govern himself accordingly.

The Governor has not displayed the tact and skill that we thought he would in dealing with those opposed to him in the legislature. His latest broadside at Speaker Bailey was ill-advised. He has opened the way for Bailey to deal him some very telling blows.

The time is ripe for road action, now one of the most important things that affects the immediate future of the state. Let it be hoped that at the next session of the law-making body, instead of the Governor's and the legislators' greatest concern being to find more things to tax, their efforts shall be to find easier and better ways for the people at large to pay their taxes.

Realize Governor, that you are confronted with a condition and not a theory in dealing with the legislature and we believe that things will be better from now on for your administration and for the welfare of our beloved state.

BILBO AND BAILEY.

Bilbo's invective against Tom Bailey, speaker of the house of representatives, charging him with the defeat of every administration measure during the legislative sessions, credits the speaker with an unusual amount of power. Bailey says that Bilbo's gravy train was wrecked and that the governor is angry because his "Mussolini" schemes were thwarted. The governor accepted some poor advice and wanted too many offices to be filled by appointments from him.

Maybe, when the smoke of battle has cleared the people of Mississippi will understand just why the legislators did not give Mississippi some kind of comprehensive road program. The majority in the house did not want an "administration road measure" and the administration majority in the senate, together with the governor, did not want an anti-administration bill. The public thinks there was much bull-headedness manifested on both sides and there was. Instead of trying to meet on halfway ground, the legislators and the governor displayed childlike petulance in instance after instance.

We hope that during the interim before the next session, some road plan will be worked out that will satisfy the Mississippi citizenship—the people who have got to pay for whatever roads are built. We don't care whether it be satisfactory to the governor or to those who oppose him, just so it suits the man down the line who has to dig.

CHAUTAUQUAS SHOULD BE TAXED

We thoroughly agree with Governor Bilbo in that part of his message vetoing the amusement tax bill when he said that chautauquas should be taxed in Mississippi. We have always thought that.

Chautauquas, it is true, are educational, instructive and entertaining. So is a first-class moving picture show. Chautauquas, just like all other amusement enterprises and businesses of any character, are engaged in business to make money and not to uplift the community nor to elevate it to a higher plane educationally, and they should be shown no more consideration than any other enterprise.

For years chautauquas have had it pretty soft—they come to no town that doesn't guarantee a money-making engagement; they pay no tax and they pay no rent for the lot they show on. We wish we could run our business like that—wouldn't it be easy?

Now, we know some are going to say that this editorial exhibits a spirit of backwardness and non-progressiveness on our part and that we are injuring the community by voicing such sentiments. We know, though, that a great many erstwhile chautauqua guarantors in Grenada will agree heartily with us.

A WORD TO THE STATE HEALTH DEPARTMENT.

The press reports daily the rapid increase of cases of influenza throughout the whole country. In many localities, the schools and colleges have been compelled to close. We are sure that Dr. Underwood, head of the State Health Department, recognizes the gravity of the situation, and that his department, working through the county health officials, is doing all that he deems expedient at this time, but we are wondering if it would not be best to put on more restrictions before the disease becomes a general epidemic rather than afterwards(?). The public chafes under regulations for the time being, but rarely fails to recognize in the end the wisdom of what health officials do.

POINTS TO MIKE CONNER.

The present political muddle in Mississippi is demonstratng clearly that Mike Conner is the outstanding man in the state to be Mississippi's next governor of those who have been mentioned as candidates. His stock is soaring every day and it looks now from this stage of the game that he will clearly outdistance the field in the running three years from now. Others who have been mentioned as prospective candidates are having their political fences torn down and their political plans are going awry. If Conner runs, and we think he will, he's going to be hard to beat.

HALF-HEARTED

Never Felt Well

"I don't see why women will drag around, in a half-hearted way, never feeling well, barely able to drag, when Cardui might help put them on their feet, as it did me," says Mrs. Geo. S. Hunter, of Columbus, Ga.

"I suffered with dreadful pains in my sides. I had to go to bed and stay sometimes two weeks.

"I could not work, and just dragged around the house.

"I got very thin. I went from a hundred and twenty-six pounds down to less than a hundred.

"I sent to the store for Cardui, and before I had taken the first bottle I began to improve. My side hurt less, and I began to mend in health.

"Cardui acted as a fine tonic. I do not feel like the same person. I am well now, and still gaining."

Mr. W. B. Hoffa, during the first of the year, offered a $10.00 prize to the one who raised the best cotton crop on his Martin place, in this county. The same was captured by Mr. J. W. Harris, an industrious and worthy citizen. He made eighteen bales of cotton with two small mustang ponies and had only one regular assistant. The value of his crop has been over $1,000.00. Well done for Mr. Harris.

Mr. and Mrs. A. Gerard were in Memphis Wednesday to attend the marriage of their son, Mr. L. A. Gerard, to Miss Carrie McKinnie.

Cameron is greatly pleased with the progress the Guild is making. He speaks in glowing terms of the condition of farmers and predicts an era of prosperity for the county unequalled for many years. Col. Cameron is constantly pushing the interest of the Guild—the foremost fraternal order in the south.

Miss Carrie McKinnie and Mr. Loyd Ashford Gerard were united in marriage at the residence of the bride's parents, Memphis, Tenn., Wednesday afternoon, Dec. 2, 1903, at 3 o'clock, in the presence of a few relatives and friends. The groom is a son of Mr. and Mrs. A. Gerard, of Grenada, and was born and reared here, and at present holds an important position with the Tennessee Oil Co. at Memphis. The bride is a lovely, charming and attractive young lady. May their pathway be filled with happiness and prosperity.

R. E. Laycook returned to Leland last Saturday where he has a position with the Leland Cotton Company.

Jim is an all-round good ad and job man, a wholesouled, genial good fellow and has many friends in Grenada who welcome him back home.

Attorneys Horton and Horton were among those who attended Federal Court at Oxford from Grenada this week.

Miss Minnie Harper, quite a beautiful young lady of this county, visited in Grenada Tuesday.

Mr. Lee G. Lamkin, of Washington City, is visiting his sister, Mrs. J. W. Eskridge, and other relatives.

On Friday, December 4th, the ancestral home of the the Golliday's—colonial in style and magnificent in proportions—was in holiday attire. Twenty ladies were royally entertained by Mrs. H. B. Barbee. After several enjoyable games of whist, the ladies repaired to the spacious dining room, where a vision of loveliness met their eyes. The dainty feast so deftly served to the guests was in keeping with the exquisite decorations.

On the night of the same day, Mr. Barbee entertained some ten or twelve of his gentlemen friends with a smoker, and to say that several hours were spent by the guests in a delightful and enjoyable manner is putting it rather mildly. Dainty and elegant refreshments were served and eloquent speeches were made by Sen. B. C. Adams, Mr. Jos. Newburger and others around the festive board. As a host, Mr. Barbee cannot be excelled.

Rev. J. W. Lee has returned from Kentucky where he has been engaged in a successful revival. He reports an interesting time.

GUARDING the LIFE CURRENT

You have had those old reliables—the toaster and percolator for years. Electric washers, cleaners and ironers have long ago lost their novelty for you. The time has come perhaps—when you want to add a new electric comfort.

It is ready. When it comes, simply attach the cord to a convenient outlet. The rest you know—how the desire of the moment is filled in less than a moment—completely and satisfyingly—by a turn of the switch.

If there happens to be too much of a load on your house wiring at any time, a fuse goes into action at once and arrests the overload.

Similarly, on the lines that carry the load of thousands of appliances in homes around you, there are big "fuses" called circuit breakers. But to preclude any possible interruption in your service, the equipment of the electric light and power system has been planned for needs years in advance.

The electric industry builds today—that the life current of tomorrow shall be available in every farm and hamlet for every human need. See that you use your share of it.

(Our goal anticipates the day when every farm, home and factory shall enjoy the fullest measure of electric benefits in a new Mississippi that is completely electrified.)

Mr. J. P. Fisher, now an ensign in the navy, was here this week on a furlough. He seemed to be exercising himself as a sure enough "fisher" while here. Mr. Fisher will go from here to New York where he has been ordered to report for assignment to some vessel.

Messrs. Hull and Archer enjoy enviable reputations as big game hunters and during the week-end will lead in a coon and opossum drive up Yalobusha swamp. "WHAT MOTHER REALLY WANTS FOR CHRISTMAS"

The Mississippi Power & Light Company has announced a most interesting Christmas campaign featuring the Hotpoint Electric Range and other electrical bargains. The slogan used, "What Mother Really Wants for Christmas" is attracting no little attention and their announcement tells a story of interest to those who are in doubt as to just what mother would really like to receive as a Christmas gift.

This campaign is under way in this city and some 20 other Mississippi cities and in addition to featuring the Hotpoint Electric Range, it stresses the Kelvinator electric refrigerators, the electric Easy Washers and the Hotpoint Vacuum Cleaners. Other small electric appliances are also being featured in an effort to make this an outstanding electrical Christmas.

Special attention is called to the advertisements of the Mississippi Power & Light Company, appearing from time to time in this paper. Said advertisements tell an interesting story of the many features of the "What Mother Really Wants for Christmas" campaign.

Friends ... or Just neighbors?
"Mama wants to borrow an egg .... could you lend us a cup of sugar 'til tomorrow ... brother Sam sent me over to get your tire pump ....."
Neighbors may borrow any one of the 101 things the best housewives run short of, and still be friends, but "let me use your telephone" is imposing on your neighbor's good nature and will eventually strain the most genial relations.
It's easy to avoid such unpleasantness. For only a few cents a day you can have your own telephone. Give your order to any telephone employee.

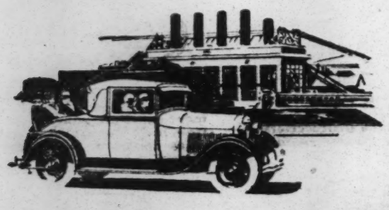
When Better Automobiles Are Built ... Buick Will Build Them

The utilities of a city are combined in your motor car



YOUR automobile is something like a miniature city. There is an electric light and power system, a water system, a fuel system.

In the new Ford, you will find each of these systems of the latest design and best materials. Every part has been made to serve you faithfully and well at a minimum of trouble and expense.

Take, for example, the generator—one of the most important parts of the electrical system which supplies the current for lighting and for engine ignition.

In the new Ford, the generator is of the power-house type and is distinctive in many features. It has been specially designed to prevent most forms of trouble. Oiling is necessary only once a year. About the only thing you need do is to have the charging rate changed as the seasons change.

Closely allied to the electrical system is the ignition system. It, too, is of new mechanical design in the new Ford. There is but one high tension cable and that connects the coil with the distributor. Even cables from the distributor to the spark plugs have been eliminated. Special care has also been taken to make the distributor water-proof, thus preventing short circuits from rain, etc.

The entire electrical and ignition systems of the new Ford are so simple in design and so carefully made that they will give you surprisingly little trouble. Yet that doesn't mean they should be neglected. Certain little attentions are needed from time to time.

The storage battery should be given water and the connections kept clean. The generator charging rate should be changed as indicated. Spark plugs should be cleaned at regular intervals. Distributor points should also be kept clean and the distributor cam given a light film of vaseline every 2000 miles.

These are just little things, but they mean a great deal to your car. You can have them looked after at very small cost by the Ford dealer when you take the car in for oiling and greasing.

A thorough checking-up at regular intervals will lengthen the life of your car and give you many thousands of miles of carefree, economical motoring.

FORD MOTOR COMPANY

"... and be sure to keep plenty of good oil in the crankcase. We use Pan-Am in our demonstrators."

Your 1929 car especially needs an oil like this

PAN-AM MADE 100% FROM PURE PARAFFIN BASE OIL MOTOR OIL — GASOLINE PAN-AM MOTOR OILS

ANY car runs smoother and sweeter with Pan-Am motor oil in the crankcase. And in the newest cars an oil of this type is almost a necessity.

For they depend upon greater engine speeds to deliver their better performance. That means terrific heat and vastly increased wear.

Under such conditions you need an oil that will keep its body in spite of heat and friction. An oil like Pan-Am!

This motor oil is tougher and sturdier because it is refined with unusual care from pure paraffin-base crudes.

Try Pan-Am in your car new or old. Every dealer has a chart showing the correct grade for each model of all makes of cars.

WARDEN ASKS CO-OPERATION IN PRESERVATION OF GAME

To the People of Grenada County:

The board of supervisors at its December meeting gave me permission to buy some deer. I received a pair Sunday and turned them loose above Grenada in the river bottoms. We are going to use the money paid into the county treasury for hunting licenses to buy more deer and some turkeys to be scattered over the county, thereby making a start toward restocking with wild game. If the people will help me protect the game that we are turning loose it won't be long before we will have several fine herds of deer as well as plenty of wild turkeys.

There is now a closed season on deer in all districts of the county except district 5, in the western portion, and the penalty for hunting or killing deer in any part of the county except in that district is $100 fine and 30 days in jail. It is unlawful to run deer with dogs at any time in the county.

The boys and girls should do all they can to help us in protecting the game so that they will have something to hunt when they become old enough to enjoy the sport. Everybody should consider it his duty to help us in restocking our county with game and in protecting that we already have and are now buying. The money for this game we are buying, as I have said above, comes from the sale of hunting licenses and is not costing the county one penny, directly. In talking to your supervisors don't forget to tell him how glad you are that he is helping in this great work.

I want to thank all for their support and help in enforcing our game laws. My greatest pleasure comes when I am in the woods and see plenty of game and know that in a few years we shall have game as we had when I was a boy. Your support and help is needed now more than ever before so that the present younger generation will have the same pleasure that we have had in years passed.

Respectfully,

R. E. HALL,

County Game Warden.

DID MORE GOOD THAN ALL ELSE, HE STATES

"Sargon Is Only Medicine I Ever Took That Gave 100% Satisfaction", Says L. & N. Agent.

The demand for Sargon, the celebrated new medicine that is creating a sensation in the drug trade, continues to grow by leaps and bounds as statement after statement is made by well-known citizens regarding the wonderful benefits derived from its use.

Among those who have experienced the remarkable restorative effects of Sargon is Mr. A. R. Scruggs, widely known railroad man, and for the past ten years agent of the L. & N. R. R. at Binghampton, a suburb of Memphis, Tenn. Regarding his experience Mr. Scruggs said:

"My system was so full of toxic poison that I suffered from dyspepsia, heartburn, and neuritis or rheumatism, nearly all the time and hardly knew what it was to get a good night's sleep. After the day's work I would be so exhausted I would drag myself home, too tired out to enjoy my supper or do anything except sit around and go to bed.

"I tried a lot of medicines but in spite of all I could do I kept getting weaker and more run down all the time, and if it had not been for Sargon Soft Mass Pills I hardly know what I would have done. I am convinced they are different from anything else for they took right hold of my case and soon had me feeling like a new man. I have gained weight, eat anything I want, sleep like a log, and have been relieved of the physical exhaustion. Sargon is the only medicine I ever took that gave me 100 per cent satisfaction."

A. M. E. Conference

The Northeast conference of the A. M. E. Church has just closed one of the best sessions of its history. Bishop W. M. D. Johnson, presided over the conference with such brotherly skill that all of the brethren were happy. It is said by them that he has a keen eye to measures necessary for the growth and needs of the church. He was pleased to make several transfers, plucking up the men from this field and sending them to another in order that the church might have new blood injected into its spiritual development. The church here, Powell's Chapel, is the recipient of a shepherd transferred from the Texas conference. We are hoping that these various changes will militate for the good of the cause.

The friends and acquaintances of Mrs. Susie (Davis) Bratcher, of Memphis, Tenn., will be pained to hear of her bereavement in the death of her youngest son, William Davis. Mrs. Bratcher was born and reared in this community and it was here that all of her children were born. She was, until his death several years ago, the wife of William Davis who served at the Grenada Hotel for many years. After his death she moved to Memphis, Tenn. Her son William had been sick quite a while following an operation from which he never recovered. The friends of this staunch family sympathize with her in this sad hour.

Will B. Dailey Dead

Last Saturday evening the news was sent out that Will Dailey was dead. The announcement was no surprise because for several months he had suffered with an affliction that challenged medical skill. His energy and strength delayed the final results. He put up a good fight to combat the onrush of the disease but finally lost out. Will Dailey was one of our best citizens. He was faithful to all his promises and obligations. He was a leading factor in his community and seemed to have a vision of how best to develop the interest of those with whom he worked. He was a splendid type of his race and never lost an opportunity to do what he could for its advancement. He was a splendid farmer, excellent teacher in our public schools, a church worker and an all round man. We will miss him. He leaves behind him a father, three brothers and two sisters and other relatives and friends to mourn their loss.

Mr. and Mrs. Marden Murry, of Charleston, Miss., came over last week to spend Thanksgiving with Miss Doothy Cheers of this city.

Miss Mary Brooks, the sister of our friend, Mr. E. D. Brooks, letter carrier of our city, was brought home a corpse from St. Louis, Mo., where she had been living for several years. We learn that her death was caused from heart failure. Miss Brooks was reared in this community and had many friends here who join in sympathy with the bereaved.

Rev. G. M. Chisholm, pastor of Vincent M. E. church, this city, left last Monday for Kosciusko, Miss., where the upper Mississippi conference went in session Dec. 5th. This is the earliest date ever before set for a session of the annual conference of which this church is a part.

We are glad to state that we had the pleasure of shaking the hand of our friend, Mr. O. F. Lawrence on last Tuesday morning. The people of our group will be proud to learn that he is again on the road to recovery. We had been intensely solicitious for his welfare. At one time we had almost lost hope. You know, we get shaky when one is so sick that all visitors are barred and of course when the bars are removed we take heart and hope returns and we feel easier. Mr. Lawrence has many friends among our group because of his interest in our welfare. We hope his days are yet many on this side of the river.

The young men of this community of our group have organized a social club with quite a nice membership of some of the best boys of the city. Their organization is regular with officers to man the club in a distinctive way. Constitution and by-laws to govern them. They put on a three-night community fair this week in the basement of Vincent M. E. church. They had a regular program with a large variety of exhibits giving prizes to the best producers in art, needlework, cooking, canning, etc. Much skill was displayed in the arrangement of exhibits and it showed that it was worth while.

The test for second month in Grenada High School was given last week. The students showed a marked improvement over first month. The honor roll students are as follows: 10th grade, Viola Eskridge; 9th grade, Harry M. Summerfield; 8th grade, Jessie Hardemam; 7th grade, Otis Sykes; 6th C. A. Bohannon; 5th grade, Ida M. Sigers; 4th grade, Catherine Halliday; 3rd grade, Blanche L. Matthews; 2nd grade, Rosa H. Barnes; 1st grade, Ruth Palmer, Jimmie Hudson; Primer A, Mary Carter, Richmond White; Primer B, Arlena Jones, Coates Mister.

PAUL AND HIS FRIENDS

GOLDEN TEXT—A friend loveth at all times.

PRIMARY TOPIC—Paul Writes a Letter to Philemon.

JUNIOR TOPIC—Paul's Letter to Philemon.

YOUNG PEOPLE AND ADULT TOPIC—The Place of Friendship in the Christian Life.

I. Paul Praying With the Ephesian Elders (Acts 20:36-38).

This incident reveals the real spirit of fellowship which had developed between Paul and the elders of the church at Ephesus. Knowing the seriousness of his mission to Jerusalem and the probability that he would never see them again, he asked these elders to meet him at Miletus, that he might give them the proper instructions so as to enable them to meet the issues which confronted them. Before leaving them he knelt down and prayed with them.

II. Concerning Certain Ones at Rome (Rom. 16:1-4).

1. Phoebe commended to the Christians at Rome. Phoebe was a Chistian woman from the church at Cenchrea who was making a visit to Rome. Her business is not defined, but it was such that he could ask the Christians not only to receive her, but to render her the proper assistance therein.

2. He asked that the Christians greet Priscilla and Aquila (vv. 3, 4). The ground upon which this greeting was urged was their own loyalty to himself. He stated that they had laid down their own necks for his life.

III. Concerning Apaphroditus (Phil. 2:25-30).

Not being able to revisit the church at Philippi, Paul sent his friend Apaphroditus to minister to them.

IV. Paul Writes to Philemon.

Philemon was a member of the church at Colosse. Onesimus, his slave, wronged him; perhaps stole from him and fled to Rome and there came under Paul's influence and was converted. Paul sent Onesimus back to Philemon with this letter. This is one of the most tender and beautiful letters ever written and the first anti-slavery petition ever penned.

1. The salutation (vv. 1-3).

His aim was to touch Philemon's heart; he, therefore, refers to himself as a prisoner and links Philemon to himself as a fellow-laborer in the gospel of truth.

2. Philemon's reputation (vv. 4-7).

(1) His faith and love toward the Lord and all the saints (v. 5).

His earnest desire was that this faith bear fruit in Christ Jesus.

(2) His ministry to the saints (v. 7). Philemon generously ministered of his substance to the poor saints.

3. Paul's request (vv. 8-16).

He requested Philemon to receive back Onesimus, the runaway slave, as a brother in Christ.

(1) Beseeches instead of commands (vv. 8-10). Though conscious of his right to enjoin, he pleads as a prisoner of Jesus Christ, for love's sake.

(2) He pleads on the grounds of grace (vv. 11-14). He admitted that Onesimus had been unprofitable, had forfeited all claim upon Philemon, and that on grounds of justice his plea might well be rejected, and yet, because Onesimus was begotten in his bonds (v. 10), was in a real sense part of his own suffering nature (v. 12), he ventured to suggest that he should be accepted.

(3) Paul desired that Onesimus be received back, not as a slave, but as a brother in Christ (vv. 15, 16). Here is the real fugitive slave law. Paul never attacked slavery, though it was contrary to Christianity and therefore hateful to him, but emphasized the principles which destroyed it. The wise thing to do is to get men and women regenerated and thus transform society, instead of seeking change by revolution.

4. The basis upon which Onesimus was to be received (vv. 17-21).

The debt of guilty Onesimus to be put to the account of Paul and the merit of Paul to be put to the account of Onesimus. This is a fine illustratioon of the atonement of Christ. Whatever wrongs we have committed, debts incurred—all our shortcomings are debited to Him. Jesus Christ, on behalf of the whole universe, said to God, "Put that to my account." Onesimus was taken back, not as a runaway slave, but as a beloved brother in Christ.

5. Paul requests lodging (vv. 22-25).

He expected a speedy release from imprisonment and purposed to sojourn with Philemon. What a welcome he must have received!

COUNTY SCHOOL NEWS

By LAFAYETTE ATKINSON
Superintendent of Education

The Granada County Teachers Association met last Saturday in the auditorium of the Grenada High School with a large attendance of the teachers of the county present. Rev. J. H. Holder was present and read the scripture lesson of the hour. He spoke to the teachers for a short while on the completeness of the teacher's training and preparation and the faith and co-operation of the organization to accomplish greater results in the training of the youth of our country.

Miss Eades, teacher of Education in Grenada College, was the principal speaker of the day. She gave to the teachers a number of valuable thoughts and ideas relative to methods taught and practiced in the schools of the state. All enjoyed the address of Miss Eades.

Several of the boys and girls of the county have done outstanding work in some of the extra activities of the school. Frances Carpenter, a member of the Senior class of the Grenada High School, was given a free trip to the National Club Congress at Chicago by the Illinois Central Railroad for doing the best 4-H club work in gardening among the girls of North Mississippi.

Will Ed Bowen, a student of the 8th grade in the Gore Springs Consolidated School, was awarded a trip to the Club Congress for growing the best sweet potatoes in North Mississippi.

Jack Williamson, a pupil of the eleventh grade in the Holcomb Consolidated School, also received a free trip to Chicago for being the best grower and producer of cotton in the district.

Congratulations to these young people for their splendid showing and for the fine work done under the capable and efficient direction of the county agents of the county. Fine work has been done among the junior farmers of the county by the county agents of the present and the past. If the agricultural section of Grenada County is to grow and prosper it will be at the hands of the junior farmers. Let's encourage our boys and girls who are interested in this important work.

The Holcomb Consolidated School has been closed for the past week due to the necessity of installing a new furnace in the main building. All teachers and pupils are back in school and the heating facilities are working nicely. Parents are requested to send children on to school for it is necessary for them to be in the school room as examinations are approaching.

The rural and consolidated schools will close on the 21st of December for the Christmas holidays and will resume work on the 31st. Teachers and patrons will take notice of same.

Eighteen boys and girls, members of the senior class of the Grenada High School, are making the enumeration of the educable children in the city of Grenada during this week. The co-operation and assistance of the parents and citizens of the town will be appreciated.

Parents, citizens, trustees, and drivers of the rural schools are requested to aid and assist the teachers of the various communities in getting the list of the educable children of the county. This is a vital part of the scoool work as it is through this process a large part of the money is secured from the state to carry on the free schools of the county. Any help, by anyone, will be appreciated.

The Value of Reading Good Books

READ! READ! And continue always to read.

Begin with books of primary knowledge and lead up to books of special knowledge. The most interesting books are those that give you knowledge of man, his habits, his aims, his growth, his pursuits, his God, his ideals, his hopes. Many authors have devoted their lives to this study, and what they have written is well worth reading.

After reading 50 or more books of primary knowledge, then take up books on the life and history of man. Primary books will be selected for you by your teacher.

Fiction is relaxation for the mind Much of it is interesting and descriptive. Too much fiction makes your reading unbalanced, hence your mental knowledge is out of balance.

History is a subject you can always profit by reading, and it supplies the need of mental relaxation, and takes place of fiction.

Political history, that treats of the government of nations should not be overlooked. It is a study worth while in every man's life. Read books of this kind after you have read books of history and man.

Books treating on New Thought, Occult Thought, Psychology, Astronomy and science of man's spiritual life are of much interest and help. They are worthy of being read carefully.

Diversify your reading. Do not take up any one subject to the exclusion of others.

It is quite necessary that man should pass through varied experiences; that he rise from ideal to ideal. He creates his own fate.

Life is a series of awakenings. The earlier in life he realizes these awakenings the further will he go in his vision and understanding of life.

Ideals dawning upon the mind from time to time, are caught up by the brain and body and find physical expression in acts. Man's outward life, with its environments, is fitted to, and reflects his inward development.

Wealth, position, fame, power—all these attainments are the simple expression of man's individual character growth.—Selected.

The next meeting of the teachers of the county will be held in the Primary Building of the Grenada City Schools on Saturday, January 12. Those teachers who have not attended the meetings are missing something worth while and of interest in their work. Be on hand at the next meeting.

Column About Colored People of Grenada County

Items by J. H. Phillips

There is no anniversary of any kind that offers to the young people the thrill that they experience at Christmas time. It has been so in all ages since the advent of the lowly Nazarene. The joy that comes at this season is different from the joys of other anniversary occasions. The children enjoy it more because of individual considerations accompanying it. Every child expects something in the way of a gift from his parents, relatives or friends. It is right and proper, too, that their expectation should materialize. If we stop to think we will be reminded that there are children who possibly have no parents and but few, if any, friends. These, too would like to enjoy the spirit of the season, but on account of conditions are not able to do so. That condition has been thought of and arrangements are already on foot to see that no child is to be neglected during the Yuletide season. God always has a man through whom he speaks and gives command to see to those things. It is a joy and a satisfaction to any community to have such a man who through his vision is able to lay the cause upon receptive hearts and get their cooperation. Such is our blessing in this community, for we are assured a community Christmas tree where all the six or seven hundred negro children are to receive a gift. For four years this has been the custom in this community. Santa Claus will meet the children at the auditorium of the Grenada high colored school on Christmas eve to distribute these gifts. It is hoped that every child in Grenada will be registered at the public school building before the 24th of this month so that no one will be left out. This applies to all the children whether they are in school or not. Parents see that your children are listed and ready to be present to get their gifts. It is expected that all who can will make some small contribution to this occasion and get some of the joy of having assisted in making it possible.

On Tuesday night at 7:30, Rev. Sutton E. Griggs, of Memphis, Tenn., will address the citizens of Grenada at the court house, this city on "Interracial Relations". Dr. Griggs is a man with a vision and understands the trend of events and is prepared to entertain and advise our group in matters of church and state. He is not an entire stranger here for during the world war he was here and we had the pleasure of hearing some of our white friends say that he made the best world war speech that they had heard. Dr. Griggs is a prepared man of our race and we should be sure to hear him. It is hoped that our white friends will be out to hear him.

The session of the Upper Mississippi Annual Conference which convened at Kosciusko last week inspired several members of Vincent M. E. Church to make a Sunday visit to the seat of the conference. The visit was not without some excitement and damage. Miller Leonard's car, on the return trip, had the misfortune to be bumped off by a hit and run driver. His car, after making three somersaults, landed at the base of the dump with the occupants struggling to extricate themselves from the wreckage. Preston Leonard was driving when the accident happened. Mrs. Minnie Leonard, Mrs. G. M. Chisholm and Mrs. Annie Stokes got some bruises and quite a shake-up. It was very fortunate for all that it was not more serious. There were other cars that left Grenada to visit the conference, towit: H. H. Harvey and wife, M. R. Golden, with Mrs. G. A. Seals, Mrs. B. L. Stepney and Mrs. Dan Clark, Mrs. Mattie Winter with Mr. and Mrs. Green Kent and a cousin of Mrs. Winter. These three cars came back without any incident to mark their visit except a good time.

Rev. G. M. Chisholm returns to Grenada as pastor of Vincent M. E. Church for his second year. Rev. Chisholm is an acceptable pastor to this flock and they are glad to have him for another year. We are sure his past year's experience will make him a success from the beginning of the second year's work.

PICTURES JERUSALEM AS "THE HOLY CITY"

old Jaffa gate, and without stopping except for traffic we were soon in our hotel making ready for dinner. About nine-thirty that evening we walked out on the roof of the hotel and obtained a beautiful view of the city and surrounding mountains with the city as quiet as though it had no inhabitants.

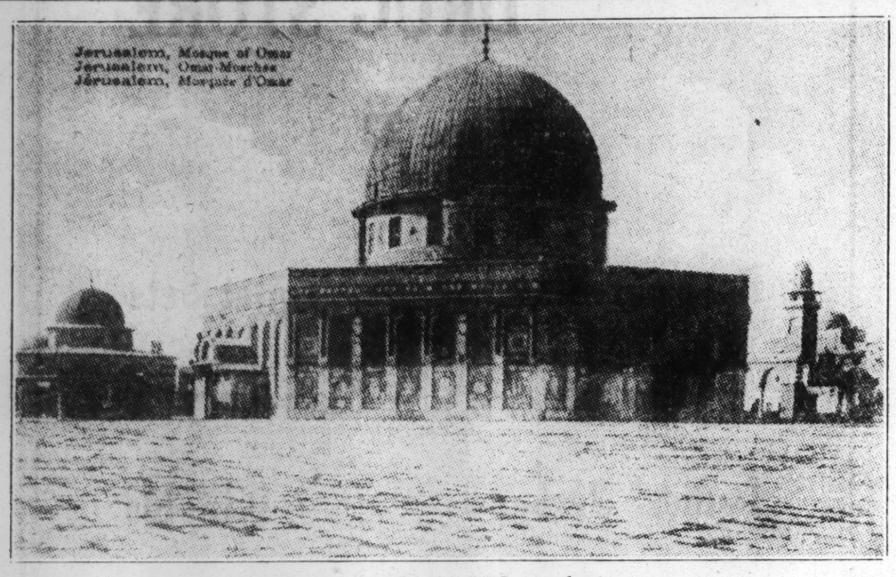
Jerusalem is a very old city. When Abraham returned from pursuing the kings of the plains, he met Melchizedek, king of Salem, the priest of the most High God. Later in the time of Judges, the name of the city was Jebus, and the name Jerusalem was probably evolved from Jebus and Salem.

Its early history was one of war and conquest. It was captured by David, and because of its natural position for defense, was made the capital of his kingdom. Under his reign and that of Solomon, it became one of the mighty and magnificent cities of the world.

But its greatness was doomed to be short-lived. It was conquered in Rehoboam's time by Shishak, king of Egypt, and afterwards by the Philistines and Arabians. Under Athaliah it was the scene of the worship of Baal, and as a punishment, it was taken and sacked by Hazael, king of Syria. Again under Hezekiah "The Assyrian came down like a wolf on the fold," and it would have again been destroyed except for the presence of the death angel in the camp. It was finally utterly destroyed by Nebuchadnezzar, and its inhabitants carried away into captivity.

After fifty years of desolation, it was rebuilt by Nehemiah and for a time prospered, but soon became the object of Roman conquest and tyranny. Under Herod it was greatly enlarged and beautified, and a magnificent new temple erected. This was the city in whose streets Christ walked, and in whose Temple He worshipped and taught, and from whose gates He was taken out and crucified.

In 78 A. D. it was again destroyed by Titus. Here it is literally true that one city is built upon another, and near the Temple area if you would find the foundations of the original city, you would have to dig through rubbish and ruins from 75 to 125 feet. No fewer than sixteen sieges have destroyed Jerusalem, and the city of our present day is really the eighth built upon the ruins of its seven predecessors.



Mosque of Omar in Jerusalem

Jerusalem today has a population of about seventy thousand.

I will give you I am sure a better conception of the city if you will make a complete circuit of the walls surrounding it, so I am going to take you around. We can walk around in less than an hour. And for our starting point we will come to the Jaffa Gate where Nehemiah looked upon the ruins of the city long ago. We go southward over the Bethlehem road and turning the corner we come to the Tomb of David, near the Zion Gate. After circling the southeastern section and going north we come to the Golden Gate, which projects six feet from the wall. This opening is now closed, and it is believed by many that this is the gate through which Christ made His triumphal entry, and the gate through which some believe He will again make His entrance to the city. About thirty-five feet above the ground can be seen a half-column protruding from the wall. The Mohammedans state that Mohammed is to sit there when the day of judgment comes, and the people are to gather. There will be a bridge from this point across the valley to the Mt. of Olives, which is to be as narrow as a Damascus blade and turned edge-up. It is expected that those who have been loyal to the Prophet will make the journey easily, while those who have not will slip into the valley and perdition.

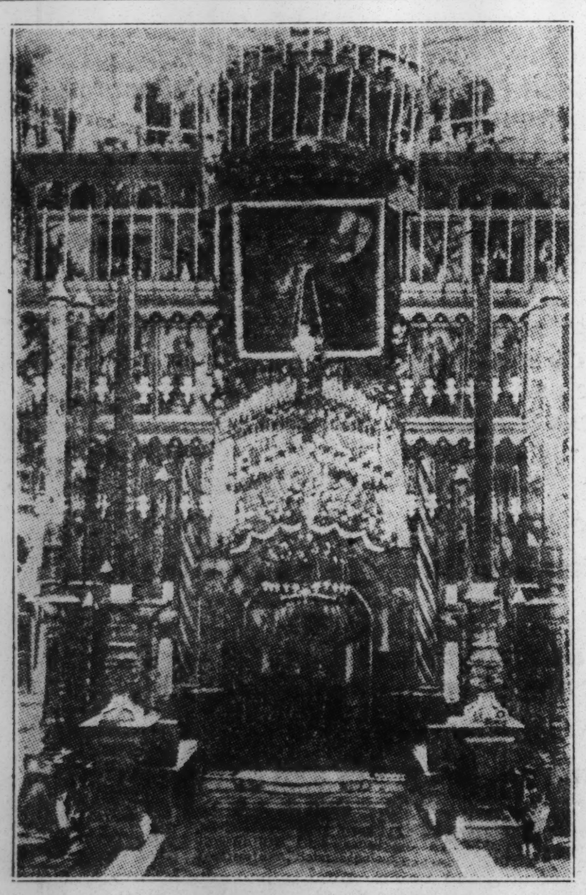
Unfinished Greek Church Over Jacob's Well

(Referred to in Rev. R. L. McLeod's lectures on Holy Lands appearing in this paper.)

Going a hundred feet further we come to St. Stephen's Gate, near which Stephen is supposed to have been martyred, then by the Damascus gate, and back to where we started, the Jaffa Gate.

City Divisions

The two main streets, David and Damascus, traverse the city almost at right angles, and mark the various quarters of the city. From the Jaffa Gate as we go toward the Temple area, to the right as one enters, is the Armenian quarter, and immediately on the left is the Christian. The Mohammedan quarter lies in the northeast section of the city, while the Jewish is to the south.



Holy Sepulcher in Jerusalem

Places of Interest

Considering that the city is less than half as large as Central Park in New York city, it is marvelous how much of surpassing interest is crowded into its narrow limits. But after walking to the end of David street, we enter a large area which appears to be a marble floor not level, but raised here and there by two or three steps—this is the old temple area, teeming with interest. In the northwest corner is a graceful minaret upon the site of the ancient fortress of Antonio, where some of the most severe conflicts in Jewish history were fought. Here it was that the Apostle Paul was rescued by Roman soldiers from a mob of infuriated Jews.

In the southeast corner by descending a stairway, we come to the so-called stables of Solomon. It gives the impression of a subterranean cathedral with over a hundred massive columns. It was probably used by Solomon as a storehouse or granary.

The Dome of the Rock

This is usually called the Mosque of Omar, but since it was neither built for a Mosque nor by Omar, it is more appropriate to call it the "Dome of the Rock." This is the finest building in Asia, so pronounced by many authorities. Octagonal in form, each side being sixty-six feet wide, fairly glittering with richly colored marbles and tiles. The dome is 116 feet high. We entered the Mosque and beheld the most exquisite and beautiful rug in the world, and walked upon it in stocking feet, as no one can enter wearing shoes. In the center of this magnificent building there is an area fenced off by bronze fencing which surrounds the rock. This rock was used in the time of Solomon for an altar of burnt offering, and in the center can be seen conduits which carried the blood away. We descended some steps which took us below this immense rock, and were shown the finger prints of the Angel Gabriel. The Mohammedans believe that Mohammed made his ascension from this rock, and as he started, the rock started following him, but the angel Gabriel caught it and held it back. Many of them still believe the rock suspended in air. Into a tile nearby Mohammed is said to have driven certain nails, which are gradually to work through and fall into the cavern below. When the last one has fallen, they say judgment day will come.

The Church of the Holy Sepulchre

I have not the space here to describe fully the church, as I did in my lecture last Sunday night. There has been a church there since 325 A.D., the present structure having been built at a cost of $3,000,000. It is a beautiful building but the jealousy of the sects worshipping here, and the sites worshipped are disgusting. The Latins, Greeks, Armenians, Syrians, Copts and Abyssinians have each their own particular shrine, and soldiers have to police the place to keep down fights. They show you the Stone of Unction, Chapel of Parted Raiment, where the Cross stood, the Grave, etc., with no grounds for any of these places.

The True Calvary

What a different in the two places! The true Calvary and the supposed! Had Christ been crucified and buried where the Church of the Holy Sepulchre now stands, He would have been crucified within the walls of the city that stood in that day. Authorities are agreed that Gordon's Calvary is the actual place where our Lord was crucified and buried, and even today can be seen the tomb which answers perfectly to the description of that given in the Gospels. This place is "outside the city" and is owned and controlled by the Protestants of the world. The tomb remains as it was nineteen hundred years ago. The stone which was rolled away is nearby.

Next Sunday we will go to Gethsemane, Solomon's quarry, etc. Space will not permit my writing as fully as my lecturing.

THE ARROW AND THE SONG

I shot an arrow into the air,
It fell to earth, I knew not where;
For so swiftly it flew, the sight
Could not follow it in its flight.

I breathed a song into the air,
It fell to earth, I knew not where;
For who has sight so keen and strong,
That it can follow the flight of song.

Long, long afterward in an oak,
I found the arrow, still unbroke;
And the song from beginning to end,
I found again in the heart of a friend.
—Longfellow

Before Election

I shot a wet speech into the air,
It fell to earth on the radio air;
For so swiftly it flew on its flight,
One couldn't tell where it wouldn't light.

I breathed a wet song into the air,
It fell to earth, fell everywhere;
One needn't have ears to get this song,
For the breath it breathed was good and strong.

Long, long afterward in a soak,
I found the echo, but the man was broke;
And the song, so heavily laden with rum,
I found again in the heart of a bum.
